Crows Nest Pass Historical Sites Board Is Formed

Some fifty persons from Lundbreck west to Coleman, gathered in the Frank Community Hall Friday evening to form the Crows Nest Pass Historical Sites Development Board. The chairman of the meeting was M. McEachern of Bellevue, while Lou Huntley of Blairmore, acted as secretary.

Present for the meeting was Dr. Lawrence Kindt, M.P. who was called upon to speak on the formation of the association and its relationship with the Dominion and Provincial Governments.

In his opening remarks, Dr. Kindt stated that Ottawa was of the opinion that the Frank Slide is definitely of national interest and it would qualify for Dominion Government assistance.

To promote this interest and to get the matter started, Dr. Kindt urged that the following steps be used without delay—

1. Get the Frank Slide designated as a National Historic spot; 2. ask the Dominion Government for appropriations to develop the Slide area; 3. form a committee with two representatives from each area in this district; 4. to plan roads and paths through the site to make it as attractive to visitors as possible. Dr. Kindt felt that the development could not be done in one season but should be done step by step as the appropriations came in. He also felt that private business could also be approached for help and should be invited to take part in the development of the Frank Slide.

If the Dominion Government should appropriate a certain sum for Canada this would be worked out to an amount earmarked for the slide. The Provincial government would then make an appropriation of a like amount and be responsible for the actual development in the province.

Dr. Kindt suggested that a committee be formed of two men from Coleman, two from Blairmore, Bellevue, Frank, Hillcrest and Lundbreck and that this committee should forget all differences and strive to have the Frank Slide developed as their number one project which would spearhead other projects being undertaken.

D. B. Young, general manager of Coleman Collieries, suggested that the best tourist contacts were to be had in cabin and motel operators, garagesmen and cafe owners, and these people should be kept posted on all tourist attractions so that they could relay the information to the travelling public.

The committee will be formed during the next week and a meeting of the selected committee will be held on Friday evening to start action on the matter of having the Frank Slide declared as a National Historic Site.

Fish & Game Regular Meeting

The Coleman Fish and Game Association held a meeting this week when plans were discussed for the annual membership drive to be conducted during the month of April.

The annual meeting will be held during the latter part of the month and will be announced when plans are completed.

A nominating committee comprising Henry Tibergien, Ed Amel, Mike Kulica and Joe Petsuk were elected to bring in a proposed slate of officers for the coming year.

The slate will be presented to the meeting for approval.

Select membership of Alberta's Agricultural Hall of Fame was increased to six with the admission of 86-year-old Daniel J. Morkeberg of Markerville, at a public ceremony in the Legislative Chamber, Edmonton, the afternoon of March 11th.

Mr. Morkeberg is shown, left, receiving the certificate symbolic of admission to the historic ranks of agricultural province builders from His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Dr. J. J. Bowlen. Looking on is Hon. L. C. Halmrast, Alberta Minister of Agriculture.

The first Hall of Fame representative from the dairy industry, Mr. Morkeberg has played an active role in Alberta dairying since 1899 when he was appointed superintendent of a creamery at Tindastoll. Name of that pioneer community later was changed to Markerville. As a member of the Alberta Legislature 1917-1921, he was instrumental in drafting a complete revision of the Alberta Dairyman's Act.

Born in Denmark in 1870, Mr. Morkeberg emigrated to the U.S.A. in 1892 and six years later he came to Canada and Alberta. Shortly after his arrival he settled permanently at Markerville and during recent years has lived there in retirement with a son-in-law and daughter on his original farm. At one time he operated creameries at Elmore, Lacombe, Red Deer and In-nislaw in conjunction with his enterprise at Markerville.

He was the first president of the Alberta Dairyman's Association, 1919 - 1922 — and the first person to be awarded a life membership in the association. Throughout the years, he remained friend and counselor to individuals and organizations connected with dairying in the province.

Mr. Morkeberg was married in Calgary in 1902, to Miss Hilma Nystrom. His wife passed on in 1961. Their family includes two sons and three daughters, all of them resident in Alberta.

A portrait of Mr. Morkeberg will join five others in the Agricultural Hall of Fame located on the main floor in the west wing of the Legislative Building. His predecessors named to the Hall of Fame in 1953 include Henry Wise Wood, J. H. Johnston, C. S. Noble, Claude Galigner and Frank Collett. Three were livestock men, one was a co-operator, and the other was a wheat producer.

The ceremony in the Legislative Chamber was attended by leading farm officials, personal friends of the guest, and others. Hon. L. C. Halmrast, read the citation to Mr. Morkeberg, and J. W. Grant MacEwan, Leader of the Opposition, brought a congratulatory message.

Coleman Fish And Game Club Appeal For Members

Coleman Club morally and financially give whole-hearted support to the endeavor to bring before the outdoor sportsman the necessity for them to join up with the Fish and Game Clubs of their respective districts.

As the Alberta Fish and Game Association enters into the 52nd year of its organization existence the call goes out from them for all-out drive for membership of 25,000 members this year.

Will your pocket contain a card of the nearest Fish and Game Club in your district? If not, then fellow sportsman, you are not doing your part as you should be doing it. Many men have been in this struggle for the entire 52 years, spending both their time and their money in this work and in that time many improvements and adjustments have been made in all fields of wild life management.

However, these men cannot live forever, and we appeal to the young men to come in the Round Table of Fish and Game Clubs of your districts as quickly as possible, and get your views and beliefs fully covered and analyzed from many of the Old Sages of 52 years' experience in the field of Wild Life Management and Study.

In the Crows Nest Pass during the past few years, three clubs have gone dead. So the towns of Blairmore, Frank and Bellevue — we send out a special appeal to all outdoor sportsman to join up with the nearest Fish and Game Clubs in your district.

There must be at least 50 men in Blairmore who should be willing to support the principles that have been expounded in this district by our clubs.

Hillcrest and Coleman are still working hard in your interest, and if you do not wish to organize a club in your own town, then we will appreciate you coming in with us in full swing. We need the Crows Nest Pass group at full strength as we need you and you need us.

Of Many Things

(By Ambrose Hills)

Who Do You Love?

I visit frequently at the home of a couple where the wife, a beautiful woman, is in the habit of embracing her husband and asking him "who do you love?"

Jim is supposed to reply, ardently, overlooking the bad grammar, with a whispered "you, of course, darling!" At least I presume that is what is expected, but that is not what comes out.

Jim looks sheepish, slightly annoyed, and reluctantly mutters "You".

He even giggles nervously — and Jim is not the giggling type.

This seems to satisfy his wife; she giggles a little, too, and shrugs and looks over at me with a sort of "Canadians are lousy lovers" expression.

Then she cooks up such a peach of a dinner and behaves so charmingly for the balance of the evening that I forget her one bad habit and Jim looks moon-eyed at her and all is bliss.

I refrain from pointing out to her that if she must discuss love in the presence of visitors, she should simply say "I love you, Jim", and avoid the rhetorical question.

In fact, I even get to thinking that maybe I am wrong, and she is right. Certainly all of us should give some thought from time to time to the persons we love. The man who is not up to his neck in love with someone — woman, child or friend — is leading only half a life.

I know a man who is desperately in love with an absolutely no-good wife — but in my opinion he needs and would ask no pity. It is better to love a loon than to love no one but yourself.

So who, or whom, do you love? Give it a thought from time to time. And when you know the answer — tell it to the lucky boy or girl! And cut out those rhetorical questions!

Observe Wedding Day Of Fifty Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rhodes of Lillcrest, were honored on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary when over 60 of their friends and relatives gathered together at a banquet in the Catholic hall on April 6th.

On entering the hall the honored couple were presented with a corsage and boutonniere by Mrs. Betty Olitch. Mrs. Wilda Curry, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Rhodes at the piano, rendered a vocal solo "I'll Walk Beside You".

The head table was centred by a three-tiered anniversary cake, — flanked by vases of daffodils and yellow candles.

Rev. R. McAulay gave the toast to the happy couple which was responded to by Mr. Rhodes.

Mrs. Annie Miklusk then presented the couple with a purse of money from their family and their friends. Mrs. Doreen Bennett presented them with an electric coffee maker on behalf of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren. They were also presented with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goodwin.

Mr. Wm. Goodwin, accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Rhodes at the piano, honored them with suitable selections on the saxophone, after which the evening was spent playing games and viewing films.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were married in England and came to Canada in 1919, where they farmed in the Champion district for some time.

He later worked in the Coleman mine in 1921, at which time he was a member of the band, then moved to Bellevue, working in the mine there. He was working for the Coleman Collieries at the time of his retirement in 1954.

They have two sons, Ernest, of Champion, and Leslie of Medicine Hat; two daughters, Mrs. John Curry of Hillcrest, and Mrs. O. E. Matlock of Warner, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Out of town guests attending the party were from Medicine Hat, Calgary, Lethbridge, Champion, Warner, Edmonton, Drumheller and Wynndel, B. C.

LAC Norman Krish On Operation In Arctic

Leading Aircraftman Norman R. Krish, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laddie Krish, Coleman, and an aero engine technician, with 435 Transport Squadron at RCAF Station Namao, Alberta, left Wednesday, April 8th by C-119 "Flying Boxcar" for Resolute Bay to participate in Operation Arctic Re-supply.

LAC Krish will spend 12 days at Resolute Bay on Cornwallis Island, about 540 miles north of the Arctic Circle before returning to the Namao airbase, 10 miles north of Edmonton.

Every spring and fall Air Transport Command re-supplies Canada's Arctic weather stations. This month six aircraft, three each from 435 Squadron and 436 Squadron Downsview, Ont., are airlifting 1,300,000 pounds of supplies and are rotating personnel to four main Arctic weather stations — Isachsen, Mould Bay, Eureka and Alert. The operation is expected to continue until April 18th, with the heavy transports flying round the clock.

The "ground crews" of aero engine, airframe electrical and communications technicians will be kept "on their toes" inspecting aircraft and correcting faults to maintain the planes on their rigid schedule in below zero temperatures.

Without capable technicians the transports would be unable to take full advantage of the nearly 24 hours of sunlight in the Arctic.

LAC Krish enlisted in the RCAF in January, 1957. He graduated from the airframe technicians course at Camp Borden, Ont., in December of 1957, and was then transferred to 435 "Chinthe" Transport Squadron.

Surprises For The Halliwell's

(Port Macleod Gazette)

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Halliwell spent the Easter week-end in Creston, visiting their daughters and husbands, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pattinson (Margery) and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. S. Moffitt (Audrey).

Two surprises were sprung on them; first by their oldest daughter Mrs. J. R. Armstrong arriving by air from Vancouver, and at mid-night the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Haysom (Wilma) and Leigh and Judith from Lettbridge, completing the family circle of four daughters, husbands and five grand children — Georgeann Pattinson, Jacqueline and Kent Moffitt.

The reason for the surprise—to observe the 50th wedding anniversary of their parents and to make it also the occasion for a family get-together. It proved a very enjoyable party in the friendly town of Creston, famed for its fruit products from the beautiful Creston Valley, and an occasion which will be fondly remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Halliwell will be well remembered by many in Coleman. Mr. Halliwell being a former publisher and editor of The Coleman Journal.
